Residence Hall Advising Services
Transitioning to college is an exciting time. You will be living in a new environment, meeting new people and adjusting to the quarter system.

To help you stay on track with your academics UC Davis Student Housing has Academic Advising Centers (AAC) that provide personalized academic support from peer advisors and tutors as part of the Residence Hall Advising Team (RHAT.)

In addition to advising and tutoring RHAT offers workshops and programs designed to help prepare you for a successful college career and beyond.

Academic Advising Centers (AACs)
Peer advisors from all four Colleges - Letters & Science, Agricultural & Environmental Sciences, Biological Sciences, and Engineering - and from Student Housing provide academic planning assistance, major exploration, grading options, internship information, and connections with other campus resources.

In addition, tutors from the Student Academic Success Center are available most evenings on a drop-in basis for free assistance with common first-year courses like math, chemistry, and writing. For residents who are simply looking for a space to study, read or work on group projects, the AAC is the ideal place.

Academic Advising Center Resources

Advising

- Peer advising is available from all four UC Davis Colleges and Student Housing.
- Help with planning course schedules; discuss topics including major interests and options, and academic progress.
- Explore extracurricular opportunities from various campus departments. Advising services are free to residents and offered on a drop-in basis; no appointment is necessary.

Tutoring

- Trained tutors are available from the Student Academic Success Center.
- Receive assistance with common first year subjects such as math, chemistry and writing.
- Tutoring services are free to residents and offered on a drop-in basis; no appointment is necessary.
- Tutoring is a good way to meet other students who may be taking similar classes, and an opportunity to form study groups.

Academic Workshops

- Academic Coordinators, Student Housing professional staff members, host a wide range of 20-30 minute academic-related workshops throughout each quarter.
- Subject areas covered include exam strategies, effective note-taking, understanding learning styles, time management, creating effective study groups, and how to successfully prepare for finals.
- Workshops are open to all residents in any AAC.
- Workshops are offered in groups or on a one-on-one basis.

RHAT Programs

- Highly trained Peer Advisers visit each residence hall community multiple times during the academic year.
- Peer Advisers present short, timely, highly interactive presentations on important academic advising content.
- Peer Advisers stay after the presentation to provide one-on-one and small group advising to students.
- Presentation topics include Winter Quarter Scheduling; Majors, Minors and Careers; Thinking About Summer School, and more!
- The first RHAT program of the year, The Night Before Classes, is Wednesday, September 30. You'll learn more about this program from your Resident Advisor.
