Tips for a Stress Free Move-out
Chances are you have more to pack up then you came with at the beginning of the year. With finals around the corner and move-out day approaching, plan ahead now what you will be able to pack up and take with you so when the day comes you'll have a stress free move-out!
1. Set aside about 30 minutes each day to organize, plan, and pack.
2. Decide where your belongings are going
3. Get a head start and pack items you are not actively using
4. Consider using plastic bins that can double as secure storage if you do not plan on unpacking right away
5. Set aside items to donate - bags are available at the Area Service Desk (look for the donation stations on June 6 - see details below)
6. Eat your food, especially the perishable foods and discard any uneaten food into the compost collection bins
7. Sort through coursework and decide what you need to keep and recycle the rest
8. Sell back books when no longer needed for studying
9. Divert your waste from the landfill and use the various waste stream available to you in Student Housing
10. Save time to clean and be sure to follow the checkout directions you will receive in your mailbox

GOODWILL NOT LANDFILL

"Goodwill Not Landfill" donation drive is almost here! The week of June 6 - June 9 Student Housing will be collecting items to donate to Goodwill Industries, Aggie Reuse Store and the Food Bank of Yolo County.

One week left before the Student Housing "Goodwill Not Landfill" donation drive. Take advantage of this time to start bagging up any items you have to donate. Bags are available upon request at the Area Service Desk in each housing area and collection bins for reusable items and non-perishable foods will be set-up in every res hall on Monday, June.

Call for nominations for 2017-18 book project

The campus is inviting your suggestions for the book that will follow Stuffed and Starved in the Campus Community Book Project.

Stuffed and Starved is the book project for 2016-17, as announced last month, selected from nominations on the topic of "poverty/hunger/food security."

The topic for 2017-18, as selected by the Campus Council on Community and Diversity, is "intersection of racial and LGBTQIA (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer, Intersex, Asexual) identities." Nominations are due by July 1, after which the selection committee will have the summer months to consider the nominated volumes.

Here are the general criteria for nominations:

- Compelling and thought-provoking to engage us in dialogue about contemporary controversial issues and to raise questions that have many possible answers.
- Well-written, accessible and engaging to a general audience.
- Short enough to be read within the timeframe usually allotted for coursework.
- Provocative and intriguing to as many members of the community as possible, to invite diverse participation and integration into discussion groups and courses across the sciences, social sciences, and humanities.
- In print in paperback (by spring of the year before the project) and affordable.
- Written by an author who is still living and who is an engaging public speaker, available to give an author’s talk during the span of the project, and who would be a campus guest.

Nominations are welcome from anyone in the campus community. Please include title, author and a short description of the book, plus an explanation of why it complements the topic and represents a worthy selection.

Have a nomination or would you like to volunteer for the selection committee? Send an email to Mikael Villalobos, coordinator of the Campus Community Book Project.

How did that happen? Well, students had been advocating for an end to Saturday exams, and campus leadership worked with ASUCD representatives to do just that. About a year ago, campus leadership forwarded the recommendation to the UC Office of the President, and it was approved.

Note dates on your calendar now:

Fall Quarter 2016
- Classes start on Wednesday, September 21
- Classes end on Friday, December 2
- Final exams from Monday, December 5 through Friday, December 9

Sorority and Fraternity Life

Unrecognized Groups

Some organizations that were once recognized fraternities or sororities at UC Davis may attempt to continue to operate despite having lost recognition from the University. Any operation of these groups is considered underground activity and is not sanctioned by the Office of Sorority and Fraternity Life. Therefore, students should carefully consider their potential student conduct record before associating with an unrecognized group.

These organizations have had their recognition revoked by the institution for various reasons, including such things as hazing, alcohol and drug abuse, risk management violations, and failure to comply with University policies and expectations. These organizations have in almost all cases also had their charter suspended or revoked by their inter/national organization because they were not upholding fraternal values and were engaging in risky behaviors that endangered the members and other students.

For a complete list of recognized groups please visit the UC Davis Sorority and Fraternity Life Chapter Pages website. If you have a question please contact the Office of Sorority and Fraternity Life 530-752-4606.

UC Davis Department of Theatre and Dance

Don't Miss "Mr. Burns, A Post-Electric Play"
May 27, 2016 - 8:00pm | May 28, 2016 - 8:00pm | May 29, 2016 - 2:00pm
The Apocalypse! No Electricity! "The Simpsons?"

In the wake of a post-apocalyptic event, a group of survivors gathers together and tries to recall an episode from television's "The Simpsons." From their recollections, the tale evolves into the foundation of a new theatrical and musical art form - complete with commercials. Playwright Anne Washburn has taken this concept to hilarious heights in her wickedly funny "Mr. Burns, A Post-Electric Play," billed as a dark comedy with music.

Featuring music by Michael Friedman and lyrics by Washburn, the innovative contemporary work will be presented by the UC Davis Department of Theatre and Dance in Wright Hall's Main Theatre Thursday through Saturday May 19-21 and 26-28 at 8 p.m. and Sundays May 22 and 29 at 2 p.m.

Directed by visiting artist, Mindy Cooper.
