Healthy Campus Network Physical Activity Project

Contributions you can make as an undergrad to the groundbreaking research taking place at UCD.

Research.

Learn from your peers about their experiences working with faculty and graduate students, and the Healthy Campus Network project is a monologue production that is organized, produced, directed, and performed by UCD students. The experience is free to all residence hall students, with transportation provided and lunch available.

Healthy Campus Network Project

Healthy Campus Network project contributes to the Healthy Campus Network goal of improving the health and wellness of the UC Davis community. The project focuses on health and well-being (vs illness) and demonstrates commitment to social equity/justice. The project addresses a critical need or gap in services and is innovative and adds value. The project is based on current/available research or best practices and reaches the entire UC Davis community (Health, Campus, Remote sites). Incentives for participation include a chance to receive a conversation starter kit designed to promote conversations about sustainability. Sign-up by
