Colleges Against Cancer
May 6-7, 2017 | Saturday, 10 a.m.-Sunday, 10 a.m. | Russell Field

Relay for Life is hosted in an effort to raise funds for cancer research and cancer patients. The event is 24 hours long, during which they encourage participants to interact with survivors + caregivers, camp out with their teams, and have on-site fundraisers to raise money for their teams. There are three ceremonies during the event, including the Celebration Ceremony, during which they honor our survivors; the Remember Ceremony, when they remember the loved ones we have lost; and the Fight Back Ceremony, during which they advocate for research funds to be used for cancer research. Relay for Life has raised about $5 billion for the American Cancer Society overall, in the hopes that one day, a cure to the disease that takes too many will be found. This year, the UC Davis Relay for Life will feature dodgeball tournaments, a Slip-n-slide, Zumba, Yoga, Horse rides, free food, performances, and more!
