530-752-2033 / 530-752-4345 (fax)

UC Davis boasts a broad array of leading graduate, postdoctoral and professional programs that draw a diverse and interactive student body from around the world.

These programs are located on the UC Davis campus, in Davis, California, at the UC Davis Medical Center, in Sacramento (12 miles east of the UC Davis campus) and in the Bishop Ranch Business Park, in San Ramon, the East Bay of the San Francisco Bay Area.

UC Davis Student Housing and Dining Services assists graduate, postdoctoral and professional students with finding housing at or near their program's campus. After reviewing this booklet, please contact Student Housing and Dining Services with any questions or to request help with your housing search.

Campus Housing in Davis

Based on the apartment complex's eligibility requirements professional and graduate students may live in apartment communities on the UC Davis campus. The campus apartments are Solano Park, 8th and Wake, The Atriums at La Rue, Russell Park and West Village. Postdoctoral scholars are eligible to live only in West Village.

Solano Park Apartments

Solano Park offers over 250 university-operated, unfurnished one- and two-bedroom apartments surrounded by green lawns and shade trees that create a serene, family-friendly atmosphere.

Priority is given to students with families and then to graduate students.

How to apply to live in Solano Park:

- Go to housing.ucdavis.edu/apply
- Select "Application Process for Solano Park Apartments"
- Download, complete and submit an application to Student Housing with the $20 application fee (checks only)

Students may submit an application to live at Solano Park before being admitted to UC Davis and should apply for housing several months in advance to ensure housing is available. Students may apply at any time; there is no application timeline.

West Village is a privately owned and managed on-campus neighborhood featuring three apartment complexes as well as a park, retail and dining space, a community college and single family homes.

The apartment complexes offer housing for UC Davis students, as well as faculty and staff.

The Viridian provides housing primarily for graduate students. Visit the West Village website or call for more information.

Housing in the City of Davis

The city of Davis offers a variety of housing, including apartments, rooms for rent in houses and cooperatives. In general, leases in Davis run from September 1 through August 31, and the renewal season begins in January. Vacancy rates in Davis are typically very low, so it's important to search for housing early in the calendar year.

You may have the opportunity to visit apartment complexes in Davis before choosing one, but if not, check Craigslist, the campus and Davis newspapers for listings.

Community Housing Listing

chl.ucdavis.edu

The Associated Students of UC Davis (ASUCD) maintain the Community Housing Listing, an online listing of available housing opportunities for UC Davis students: chl.ucdavis.edu. The website is a meet-up place where students who have housing but need roommates can connect with students who are seeking housing.

Nearby Cities

In addition to Davis, the nearby cities of Woodland, Dixon, Winters and West Sacramento offer housing, and Sacramento itself is a large metropolitan area with a variety of neighborhoods and housing options. These cities are, generally, more affordable than Davis, but look into transportation options if you'll be commuting.

Housing in Sacramento

UC Davis Medical Center

UC Davis Medical Center does not have on-site housing. However, a variety of reasonably priced apartments, condos, townhomes and single-family houses are available for rent in the community around the Stockton Boulevard campus.

Housing Resources

The Office of Graduate Medical Education (GME) maintains a list of housing resources online: ucdmc.ucdavis.edu/gme/housingnotices.html.

Occasionally, housing availability notices are sent to the GME office. Please contact Jennifer Cano, jennifer.cano@ucdmc.ucdavis.edu, to inquire about any current housing opportunities.

Housing in the East Bay Graduate School of Management

gsm.ucdavis.edu

The Bishop Ranch campus in San Ramon does not offer on-site housing. The campus is in the urban San Francisco Bay Area, specifically the East Bay, and conveniently located immediately off of Interstate 80. A variety of housing options are available within San Ramon and the surrounding communities of Danville, Pleasanton, Dublin and Walnut Creek.

Online websites such as Craigslist (craigslist.org) likely have the broadest offerings and most current information. Local newspapers, such as The Contra Costa Times (contracostatimes.com) may also have housing information.
